

THANK YOU

All are invited to mark Veterans Day with our Prime Time group this Thursday, November 14. Come for a delicious lunch and the chance to hear from Levi Eaves, a veteran and great nephew of Judy Cocoris, via video. Levi was critically wounded in Afghanistan and his life was forever changed by the grace of God through this experience. Meet at 11:30am in the Hillside Room.

The Prime of Life (pt.2)

Titus 2:3

According to Paul in the Book of Titus, when you and I find ourselves in the fourth quarter of life, God calls us to live until we die. Our constant question needs to be: How can I be used by Almighty God to proclaim the wonders of His Son's grace, to shine His glory, truth and grace in very dark places?

Titus 2:3 describes four qualities of spiritually mature older women: 1) behavior fitting for those who are holy, 2) not slandering, 3) not slaves to excessive drinking, 4) teaching what is good.

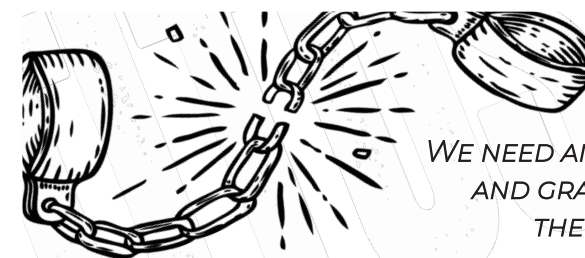

We don't want to be in our 50s, 60s, 70s, or 80s and tired of each other, tired of life, tired of Jesus. We don't want to be just rerunning the old unresolved stuff of our past, never able to make breakthroughs with all the junk that paralyzes the good works that Jesus has for us.

The Bible doesn't ever talk about retirement. The saints of God must fall exhausted across the finish line of life. We need to serve Jesus Christ down to our last breath, pursuing these qualities to the very end.

Here are questions every godly, older woman must constantly ask herself:

1. How can I make a difference?
2. Who can I encourage or disciple? Who can I teach what is good?
3. What needs can I meet? (in my church, my neighborhood, my family, at work)

MAIN IDEA

WE NEED AN ARMY OF SPIRITUAL MOTHERS AND GRANDMOTHERS WHO WILL TEACH THE GOODNESS, TRUTH AND GRACE OF JESUS CHRIST.

As the holidays approach, we invite you to consider caring for those in need in our community. Help provide a Thanksgiving dinner for a family; donate Christmas gifts for children. See Care Ministry Coordinator Eric Folbrecht at the table out front today for details, or contact him at codcares@churchoftheopendoor.com.
